

Are you an Employment Counsellor, Job Developer, Workshop Facilitator, Settlement Worker or Resource Centre Coordinator?

Could you benefit from attending a “free” one-day workshop on how to support women clients who have experienced intimate partner abuse by providing appropriate community referrals, address specific barriers and help her find employment?

ACTEW (A Commitment to Training and Employment for Women) in partnership with Springtide Resources is providing "free" Supporting Survivors/ Supporting Employment workshops to front-line employment providers across Ontario. Topics covered include:

- understanding woman abuse
- impacts of abuse on employment
- responding to woman abuse
- and connecting with local community resources

You will learn the strategies required to support women who have experience intimate partner abuse on their immediate safety needs and barriers to employment and have an opportunity to speak directly with representatives from the Violence Against Women sector.
